

Well, I am not sure if this app is malicious, but if you can tell me that the app has a receiver that launches a service and the service will leak my deviceid, Sim card info, call log to Internet, it's very likely to be malicious. Because I know there exists a malware family doing such bad things.